"If a patient has a concerning mole or skin cancer, I want to see them within 10 days. If it's a melanoma, then I try to see them within 48 hours. I work late and sometimes Saturdays to make sure my skin cancer patients are treated quickly and successfully."

With those words, Dr. Vinh Chung confirms his unwavering commitment to his patients. He gives his personal cell phone number to every surgery patient and regularly calls patients at home to check on them after surgery. He shares, "I take care of my patients the way I would want another doctor to take care of my mother and father."

Dr. Chung is board certified in dermatology, and he is one of three fellowship trained Mohs surgeons in southern Colorado. Mohs Micrographic Surgery is the most advanced form of treatment for most skin cancers. Patients come from all regions of southern Colorado and from as far as New Mexico and Kansas to seek Dr. Chung's expertise.

"I have spent a lot of time in academic centers like Harvard and Emory where you receive state-of-the-art treatment, but in an environment which may be difficult or confusing to navigate," shares Dr. Chung. He elaborates, "At Vanguard, our hope is to deliver that excellent medical care in a welcoming and compassionate setting."

Vinh Chung graduated magna cum laude from Harvard College and attended Harvard Medical School for his M.D. He completed his dermatology residency and surgery fellowship at Emory. Dr. Chung also has a Master of Theology from the University of Edinburgh and a Master of Pharmaceutical Science from the University of Sydney, where he was a Fulbright Scholar. He has received national awards for his research, by the American College of Mohs Surgery and by the American Society of Dermatologic Surgery. Dr. Chung is a member of the National Leadership Council for World Vision, the largest Christian humanitarian organization in the world.
